TITLE OF ARTWORK:

Calling all artists to submit a preview concept of art from two 3' x 3' interlocking steel sections shaped as a "Barn" in the space provided below. A prototype of the size and shape of the art piece will be on display at Creative One Gallery (98 E. Division, Sparta) starting February 15, 2012. This application should include a conceptual design plan of your artwork idea due by March 7th, 2012 for a competitive judging round. The top art concepts will be chosen and invited to actually create their concept for display. The chosen artists will be able to pick up their media on April 16, 2012 at Creative One Gallery during normal business hours. The finished art piece must be returned by May 31, 2012. Artists that complete their art piece as presented on the concept application will receive a $200 stipend for materials as reimbursement after completion. The completed art piece will be on display in downtown Sparta from June through mid-September with recognition to the artist on site, online, and in promotion material.

A high standard of quality will be required for artists to be invited to create their conceptual design enclosed. Please use the space below to describe in detail or illustrate the materials and techniques you would use on the Street Art Review "Barn" art piece. Additional points may be awarded by the judging panel for including aspects specific to Sparta's history, history of agriculture, or including especially unique or creative aspects to the art piece.

Please attach additional pages to clearly define what materials will be used on the art piece if necessary. All dates are subject to change. All artwork becomes property of the Regional Arts Guild and Sparta Downtown Development Authority, may be used in photographs and promotions, and may be auctioned after the display time.
